

CORNWALL FOR SALE!

IT'S A DEVELOPERS' PARADISE

BUT WHO CARES?

OUR CHILDREN'S FUTURE IS AT RISK

Are you concerned about any of the following issues?

- Treliske - finding yourself on a trolley at Treliske, with no hospital bed.
- GP & dentist - finding a GP practice close to home and getting to see a doctor when you need to.
- Kids - getting your children to a school of your choice.
- Truly affordable homes - will your children find a home they can afford?
- Closures - public facilities like libraries and toilets which have been neglected, sold off or simply closed down.
- Roads & traffic - increasingly congested and poorly maintained roads.
- Greenfield - continued loss of countryside, productive farmland and Cornish distinctiveness.
- Water & sewerage - sewage spills on beaches and in towns, along with more frequent flooding issues.

We believe Cornwall Council is facilitating ugly mass developments and ignoring the problems these are creating.

A growing number of people feel that the Council is letting us down by enabling completely unrestricted population growth and second homes, leading to thousands of additional new cars on our already crowded roads and permanent environmental, economic and cultural damage.

If you think the developers have taken over Cornwall, then you are not alone, but the Council appears more than happy to ignore this totally unsustainable, illogical, unwanted and destructive development of our green fields and farmland, to profit big business and central government dogma. This development is not for most people locally – many Cornish wages are not high enough to enable them to get a mortgage.

What are your MPs saying and more importantly, doing?

George Eustice, Sarah Newton, Steve Double, Derek Thomas, Sheryll Murray, Scott Mann

Have you ever wondered what your elected councillor and other officials are doing about this?

Those making these decisions include council leader John Pollard and his 122 fellow councillors, and a number of unelected officials, including planning team members Phil Mason, Chris Daly, Terry Grove-White and Peter Bainbridge, as well as the government-appointed planning inspector Simon Emerson, who recently imposed increasing the local plan housing figure from 47,500 to 52,500 to accommodate 5,000 extra second homes.

“ We live in a developer-led world. We're dependent upon developers coming in and saying they're going to build houses wherever they've bought land, or wherever they've contributed to land. That doesn't mean all developers are bad people. That doesn't mean that all developments are wrong, but what it does mean is that we are not in control of our own development. ”

Cornwall council ex-CEO Andrew Kerr (Aug-15)

There are many groups and individuals challenging this hyper-development agenda and its consequences. If you would like to add your voice to this opposition, or would like to play a more active part, offering valuable skills and expertise, then please:

We are a group of non-affiliated residents of Cornwall, from different backgrounds, towns and villages across the Duchy who are dismayed, deeply concerned and angry at seeing our beautiful land trashed for political and financial gain. Only when enough people care enough to protest, either peacefully, or vociferously, will things change at Cornwall Council and beyond.
